Let's get started

3	-Character with multi-states talking while he pronounces the narration -By saying "نَصَرَ" character moves to right, and a board enters from up, then each text appears on it while it is pronounced. -By asking "Who is being helped" another character enters from right and a thought bubble appears and containing the question. (last for a few seconds) -Arrow from Arabic to English -Pronoun in Arabic and English have the same color -	نَصَرَ He helped Who is being helped? نَصَرَهُمْ He helped them نَصَرَهُ He helped him نَصَرَهَا He helped her Restart Pause Next	-When a pronoun is attached to the past tense fi'l, we get to see who is the receiver of the action. For example, the fi'l نَصَرَ which means "he helped", we should stop and ask "Who is being helped" So, when we say نَصَرَهُمْ which can be translated into "he helped them", the receiver of helping here is "them" which equal هُمْ in Arabic. - -In the same way, نَصَرَهُ means "he helped him", the receiver is "him" which equal الهاء or هُوَ - -Also, the fi'l نَصَرَهَا which means "he helped her", who the receiver here? Yes. Exactly, it is "her" which equal ها or هي

For example, the fi'l جَعَلَهَا, the main fi'l is جَعَلَ and the

		pronoun is الهاء or هي which can be "she" or "it" <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Then, we translate the fi'l with its built-in doer. So here, it will be translated into "he made" • Finally, we put the translated words together. It will be "He made" plus "she or it". And by understanding the context we can determine if it will be "he helped her" or "he helped it" Next
